Mr. and Mrs. F. O. McKenna were on a visit to Lethbridge last Tuesday, returning Wednesday morning.

The Social evening given by the C.G.I.T. in the United Church last Wednesday evening was a great success, ten tables were laid for games, and after playing at each table for five minutes the winning couple moved to the next table, prizes were awarded to Mrs. T. B. Hands first prize and Mrs. Gage the second prize. After games the C.G.I.T. served a most delicious lunch which was enjoyed by all. Then the girls sang several of their C.G.I.T. songs, the crowd then departed all being well pleased with the work the girls had done.

A surprise party was given for Harry Carlson at his home last Friday evening. A large number of the boys and girls were there and an enjoyable evening was spent in playing games. After the games a very delicious prize was served after which all departed well pleased with the evening's fun.

BOW ISLAND

Farmers who are anxious "to Make Money" should be sure to turn over to the middle page and seriously study the "Lester Method" there described—this Lester Method they say, takes off all the Mortgages, fills our Barns with good Fat Stock, and generally leads to prosperity.

The Review feels sure that there are some real "Lester Farmers" who want to make money, in these Districts and we have no doubts but that any question on the Lester Method will be cheerfully given to all enquiring Farmers by our courteous friend Mr. Needham.

Owing to a slight error, the chapter of the story "O Money, Money," has been omitted this week, but our readers will be pleased to know it will appear again in next week's issue.

A good crowd attended the Card Party given by the Ladies of All Saints Church, the Ladies' first prize was carried off by Mrs. Geo. Allen, the Gent's First by Mr. Geo. Thomas, while Mrs. E. Wilmot received Ladies' body prize and Mr. Murray Hanna the gent's body prize.

Dairy Farming in Western Canada Is Making Rapid Progress

It has been said that an agricultural country can never reach its maximum state of development until its farmers engage extensively in dairying. This principle is now universally recognized, and the countries following the best farming methods are those producing the highest per capita output of milk, butter and cheese.

Western Canada has proved many times over that she can produce the best hard wheat in the world, and now she is convincing her neighbors that she can send them butter of just as fine a quality as her grain. Her farmers are gradually being persuaded that the most economical way to market their fatted and other crops is in the form of livestock and dairy produce, and practical demonstration is proving this. During the last ten years a phenomenal growth in the number of dairy cows and a wonderful improvement in the quality of dairy products has been witnessed in Canadian West. At the present rate of progress, the permanent agriculture of the West will be able to supply in a few years more, be devoted largely to intelligent dairy farming, with its products commanding the same price as "No. 1 Canadian Hard Wheat" does today.

Before this can be accomplished, however, it is recognized that Western Canada must produce butter and cheese of a quality that will enable her to compete in the markets with such countries as Denmark, where the science of marketing dairy products has been reduced to a fine art. To do this successfully, the basic product—cream—must not only be of a high quality, but the finished article for export must be of a uniform grade and adapted to the palates of the people in the countries where it is sent. This is the problem that is now occupying the attention of dairy experts in all three provinces. What success has attended their efforts may be judged from the fact that a ready market is found for all surplus produce, not only in the provinces of Eastern Canada but also in the United States and Europe.

It was not until 1910 that when Manitoba, although the oldest of the Prairie Provinces, commenced to produce enough butter to do any export. In 1910, however, that province sent out 152 carloads, and during the first few months of 1920, 17 carloads of creamery butter were shipped to Chicago, one to New York, one to Philadelphia, and two to Nova Scotia, besides a number of carloads to Eastern Canada and the Pacific Coast. Saskatchewan is following closely in the footsteps of her sister province, and during the first few months of 1920, shipped 81 carloads of produce, 45 of which went to Eastern Canada and seven to points in the United States. From a production of just over two million pounds in 1910, Alberta now has an annual output of more than twelve million pounds of creamery butter, which is increasing steadily every year. A large proportion of this naturally finds its way to the export market.

In 1910, Alberta produced 2,315,000 pounds of butter, Saskatchewan, 1,545,000 pounds, and Manitoba, 487,000 pounds—a total, just over six million pounds. In 1920, ten years later, the production of these three provinces had increased between eight and nine hundred per cent. to 5,575,000 pounds. The total value of dairy products was more than $74,000,000.

In spite of such progress, however, the dairy industry is only in its infancy in the Prairie Provinces, and there is much to be accomplished before these provinces can hope to reach their height of production. What has been done is but an indication of what may still be accomplished. Western Canada's most pressing need is more farmers and more stock. To these she offers a great opportunity. For the dairyman has his clean land, growing heavy crops of grasses and feeders, a suitable climate and excellent marketing facilities, assured cheap production and a good price for the finished product. With these assets and a more closely settled population there is no reason why Western Canada should not take her place among the dairy countries of the world.—By F. J. Cowdery, Calgary, Alberta.

Minister—Your baby was very good at the christening. I don't ever remember of a child behaving so well.

Mother—I've been practicing on him for a week with the watering can.

Too many men who boast of being self-made seem to have been interrupted before the job was finished.

Trappers Making Money

Expect Good Fur Trapping Season in North Country

Trapping—the big business of the north country for the next few months—is in full swing and many trappers are well established on their traps. In the north, muskrat trapping has been going along briskly and it is expected that 100,000 pounds will be marketed in The Pas. Reports state that the catch is good everywhere. Traders and buyers have been paying over a dollar for muskrat skin, while one buyer figures that a muskrat is worth more than a bushel of wheat and worth about as much as four bushels of oats.

Recently a number of fur buyers, with a sum of $50,000 in cash between them, left The Pas for the north to try their luck along the Hudson Bay railway. The train stops at each trading post and the fur buyers are only making in this brief period the fur buyers must rush upon the trade or trapper if any are about to make an offer for their furs. "This is the first time only," says the element of chance as time prohibits close examination of the furs, and the trapper must scan them and make their offer. This method of buying has been in vogue for many years, but buyers have been known to return here with as high as $40,000 worth of pelts.

Famous Convict Ship Will Visit Canadian Port

Ocean Hell Transported Men, Women and Children to Australia. The only survivor of the once notorious "Jelon fleet," which between the years 1787-1868 transported over 167,000 men, women and children convicts from Great Britain to Australia, namely, the Success, now on a tour of the world, will touch at Montreal, making the last of several visits at the opening of the next navigation season, according to a letter received from her master Captain B. H. Smith. The Success was built in 1790 and was the commander of the fleet, she otherwise known as "The Great Hell." She is in no degree changed from her original state and aboard are shown the algaes, dunnage, making pumpkins, the branding iron, punishment balls, loaded cat-o'-nines, coffee hobs and other tortures of the age. She has been inspected by over 10,000,000 people.

A Universal Alphabet

Would Be Of Great Benefit To All Nations. The National Phonetic Association has suggested that there be an international conference on the adoption of a universal phonetic alphabet. It is thought that the Roman alphabet should serve as the basis, but that slight modifications should be made to meet the needs of letters which would not interfere with their legibility to anyone familiar with their present shapes, in order that there be indicated the precise sounds for which they stand. Such an alphabet, it is maintained, would be a great boon to the world at a glance the words of a foreign language, because the spelling, apart from a few special sounds, would be the same as in his own language. There is said to be no language so hindered by its spelling as the English.

Early Prisons. In ancient times prisons were private affairs used to remove rivals or enemies. The first application of the prison system in Great Britain was a punishment for crime came in the establishment of workhouses in London in 1550. Prisoners started as reform institutions in 1780, and in 1818, Clement XI. organized the criminal ward of the Hospital of St. Michael in Rome, as a means to aid the criminal rather than punish him.

A Close Second. "I heard today that your son was an underwriter. I thought you told me that he was a physician."

"Not at all."

"I don't like to contradict, but I'm positive you did say so."

"You misunderstood me, I'm sure. I said he would the medical profession."

Ghost Language. A man pretended to have seen a ghost, and was asked what it said to him. "I could not understand what it said," replied the man, "for it evidently spoke one of the dead languages, and I did not learn them at school."

The one great drawback about loafing is the unsatisfactory compensation.

New Machine Sells Tickets

Also Makes Change and Saves Time and Labor

A machine for the rapid issue of railway tickets was being demonstrated at Manchester, Eng. The idea is quite simple. Outside the "battery" are slots in the walls, and below each of these a numbered receipt. The traveller puts his coins in the penny, twopenny or threepenny slot and the ticket shoots out into the waiting hand. He puts a coin into the slot and the ticket shoots out into the waiting hand. He puts a coin into the slot and the ticket shoots out into the waiting hand. He puts a coin into the slot and the ticket shoots out into the waiting hand.

All the work is done by the operator in the box, who stands at the lever and shoots out the tickets at great rate as the coins tumble into a receptacle below the lever. Those who watched the machine at work, and among them were railway men, said that undoubtedly the invention would revolutionize the railway, especially during the rush hours.

Saskatchewan Fisheries

Fresh Water Product to Value of $300,000 Netted Annual in Province

The importance of the fresh water fisheries in Saskatchewan is indicated by the fact that approximately $300,000 worth of fish are being caught in the lakes of this province and marketed annually, according to a report of the Department of Labor and Industries just published. A considerable amount of money has been spent on the development of the fish business, and many boats, nets and other implements have been purchased.

The most popular fresh water fish on the market in the province is white fish. The total catch of this fish during the last fiscal year was 2,123,000 pounds, valued at $212,869. This represents about two-thirds of the total catch of the province, the remainder of the catch being distributed between trout, mussels, pickerel, pike, sturgeon, trout and catfish.

The scarcest fish for marketing purposes is the gold eye. Just one ton of this fish was assessed and marketed during the year, its valuation being $240.

Guernsey Cattle Association

The first Guernsey Cattle Association in Canada has been formed at Patricia, Alta., by a number of farmers interested in dairying. Arrangements have already been made to have two carloads of Guernsey cattle shipped to members of the association.

Best Sugar in Canada

There are now three sugar factories in Canada which manufacture from Canadian sugar beets. They are situated in Western Ontario. Their annual production is about 38,000,000 pounds. About 10,000 acres are cultivated to beets.

Educating the Indian

Twelve Thousand Indian Children Attending School in Canada. There were 12,558 Indian children attending Indian schools throughout the Dominion during the past year, of which number somewhat the larger portion were girls. According to the annual report of the Department of Indian Affairs there were 236 Indian schools in operation, 253 being day, 58 boarding and 13 industrial. This shows an increase of five schools over the previous year. The total enrollment in the day schools was 7,775; in the boarding schools 3,166, and in the industrial schools 1,617. The average attendance in the three classes of schools was 8,725, an increase of 1,094 over the previous year.

The course of study in that prescribed for the provincial, public and separate schools is strictly adhered to.

Land for farming and gardening purposes as provided at practically all the residential schools. The pupils are thus enabled to get a general knowledge of agriculture. The granting of assistance to graduates is continued. Upon leaving school an Indian girl can be given a sewing machine or household furniture; a boy may receive a grant of cattle, horses, implements, harness or building material. During the year under review 184 girls and 11 boys were assisted to the extent of $1,923.31.

Dominion Will Supply Five Million Trees

Forestry Farm Plants Distribution Plan in 1923. Five million trees are to be distributed among the farmers of the three prairie provinces from the Dominion Forestry Farm for planting in the spring of 1923, according to an announcement published by Norman M. Ross, supervisor of the forestry. To secure these trees, Mr. Ross points out it is necessary to have applications sent in to him at least two weeks before March 1, 1923. The applications are required to be made a year ahead, in order that the department may be satisfied that the year's preparation of the soil is made before the trees are put into the ground on the farms.

Canada's Parents

Lien and Lilies in New Coat of Arms. Tell Story

Discussing the grant of a new coat of arms to the Dominion, the Daily Telegraph in a long editorial recently said there was a time not long ago when eminent men protested against the introduction of heraldry to the states of the Empire overseas. Her oldry, however, has not a purpose which saves men and nations from many of the blunders of ignorance, confirms their strength in times of danger, and inspires them to new exertions.

Canada, if the one state in the modern world, continues the Telegraph, which may claim both England and France as her parents. The golden lion and the golden lilies tell of the great deeds of the French pioneers, Cartier and Champlain, La Salle and Frontenac; of the struggle in the Heights of Abraham between Wolfe and Montcalm; and the development of the western provinces of the Dominion by the English colonists. No one will contest the right of the Scottish nation to a place on Canada's coat of arms. The deeds of the Scotchmen have done in the Dominion and for the Dominion are written large in the motto says, "A mari usque ad mare."

Emigration and Empire

Folly of Allowing British Citizens to Go to Foreign Countries

"The statement of the Empire are at last awake to the folly of allowing British citizens to go to foreign countries when the people hands of Australia, New Zealand and Canada are flag about for employment," the Auckland News says. "On the further development of the Empire, the policy of the Empire very largely depends. The United Kingdom has capital and surplus population, the Dominion of New Zealand has land and surplus population, the Dominion of Canada has land and surplus population. I lacked the ready cash to carry out experiments I was making; I sadly wondered what I should do; we went to bed late, disheartened."

Russians Coming to Canadian West

Former Powerful Families Contemplate Farming in Prairie Provinces

Several wealthy Russians are negotiating for tracts of irrigated land in the southern districts of Alberta, and one Russian, A. Koukalevsky, has already arrived and secured his land. In the days of the Czar, this Russian was employed in the diplomatic service, but was forced to leave a number of his companions to Japan. He is the advance guard of five other former powerful Russian families, who are coming to the prairies to farm.

Swine For Peace River

Pure Bred Saskatchewan Stock Brought to Surrounding Communities

Swine bred on the Saskatchewan have been brought to the Peace River country as a result of the policy of breeding pure bred stock and the result has inaugurated a couple of years ago.

Hon. A. P. McLean, minister of public works, states that the bulk of the pure bred swine raised on the various institutional farms have already been disposed of and 23 pure bred Yorkshire hogs have been sold from the Prince Albert jail farm, and the mental asylum farm at North Battleford, to the sheep and wire division of the federal livestock branch for resale to farmers in the Peace River country in Alberta.

"The increase of pure bred stock at the Peace River country and Prince Albert farms," said Mr. McLean, "has been a boon to the surrounding communities and the fact that the federal Government, in selecting the best type of bacon hogs for the Peace River district, should have made such a heavy purchase in Saskatchewan, has been a source of much satisfaction to the Department of Public Works."

Ship Chilled Meat Via Panama

According to the Panama Canal report, 2,500 tons of wheat from the Canadian Pacific coast passed through the canal between January 1st and August 31st en route to European ports. A consignment of 100 tons of mutton from Vancouver is said to have been the first shipment of chilled meat from Canada to Europe by way of the canal.

Champion Golfers in Canada

JOHN FOWLER HUTCHISON,
British Open Golf Champion.

JAMES M. BARNES,
American Open Champion

John Fowler Hutchison (better known as "Jack" Hutchison), who is known as "Long Jim" Barnes, is a two-time professional—having won the United States, captured a 10,000 mile golf tour at the Vancouver Golf and Country Club December 16. After playing at Vancouver and Victoria they moved south and will play at various places in the United States and swing round the circle, reaching Pittsburgh, N.C., on March 25. Both Hutchison and Barnes are British bred, the former being a product of St. Andrews, Scotland. He is now professional of the Glenview Golf Club, Chicago. "Long Jim" Barnes is thoroughly familiar with the excellent winter golfing conditions in British Columbia. He spent eight years on the Pacific Coast and laid out Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, named in honor of Baron Shaughnessy, of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Playing their first games at Vancouver on the Shaughnessy Heights links, Jack Hutchison and Long Jim Barnes, golf champions of two hemispheres, chalked up their first victory in the initial leg of their tour, by lowering the colors of the two local professionals—Dave Black and Alex. Duthie—3 up and 4 to play. The match was 56 holes—18 in the forenoon and 18 in the afternoon.

The two visiting stars exhibited a brand of golf which was a treat to local followers of the game. Dave Black did not disappoint his supporters. He fought from the drop of the hat, and played as stirring a game as either of the visiting ever, had one of those off days that golfers fall heir to, and during most of the contest he was badly at sea. It fell on Black's shoulders, in consequence to most the on-lookers of the match, a large order for "wee holes independent of Black. Black's individual score was as good as Barnes and better than Hutchison's. Barnes put in a beautiful exhibition all things considered. He is a tremendous hitter and extraordinarily accurate with it all. The most brilliant part of his game, however, is his iron play. Here he gets wonderful length and perfect direction. More than once in the struggle these shots gave him a commanding advantage. Hutchison also showed what makes him the golfer he is. Here is what some Vancouver golf experts think of the players.

C. A. Le. Payne, one-time city golf champion: "Barnes is one of the finest golfers I have ever seen. I am a strong disciple of the left-right play, which he follows, and also his open stance style. I think it makes him a steadier and more consistent player than Hutchison." Reginald Symes, ex-C. C. champion: "Hutchison's back-swing is a masterpiece and approach shot play is all his own. It is just such a nod as this that has brought championship to him. If I were a young player, commencing the game again, I would try to master this shot before all others."

Kansas' Lesson for Alberta
Lister Methods on Dry Land
Won There, Will Win Here

SWEET GRASS—COURTIS—During a conversation with J. C. Jenkins, U. S. Commissioner, Sweet Grass, recently learned that he was formerly a resident of one of the driest, hottest and western countries in the U. S. A. (Western Kansas). Naturally the drift of our talk turned into cultural methods used to win success in that region.

Mr. Jenkins stated that years ago he personally saw the time when western Kansas was completely depopulated, except for those people left in the then small towns of the district, and that he saw western Kansas come back again and turn into a prosperous country. These days the soil blew away so badly that in driving along the road he could see the marks where the furrows in the hard soil on the horizon of the furrows, but all the houses had blown off the land. In comparing that country with this part of the west, Mr. Jenkins says that their soil is much lighter than the soil here and he has every reason to believe that similar tillage methods adopted here would win big results for this country also.

Lister Methods did it. Lacked Mr. Jenkins just what accounted for the fine prosperous communities now said to be in western Kansas, that were once the depopulated districts he mentioned, resulting from a series of drouthy years such as we have just passed through here, and his answer was: "The Lister method of farming." He claims that they have more serious troubles to contend with in dry-land farming there than we have here, on account of extreme hot, hot winds and continuous high winds, lighter soil and less winter moisture, to store away by good tillage methods. The Lister method has saved their crop lands from blowing away and saved their moisture as well, turning a once barren waste into a healthy, profitable farming country. Had it not been for the change in systems of farming, western Kansas would now be but an abandoned district of shifting sand dunes, but they mastered and adopted the secrets of dry-land farming and headed off this catastrophe.

The methods he would suggest for this country is considered somewhat of an improvement over the original method used down there, but the underlying principles remain about the same. Suggests New Methods. Mr. Jenkins owns a dry farm here and is considered to be a level-headed farmer. He says he is going to establish this coming season a method something on the following order. He suggests that all land intended to be summer-fallowed be listed early in the fall before with a regular corn lister and subsoiler then left in that condition over winter to catch the snow and hold the soil from blowing. The listing should be done crosswise to the main prevailing winds. Early in the following spring, when the soil is yet moist, the ridges should be split with the Lister again and afterward be cultivated with a corn cultivator until nearly smoothed out level, keeping the weeds all killed out when small and young. Mr. Jenkins believes that this is a very fast and economical method of summer-fallowing land, for with a Lister man with a good six horse team can get over an enormous amount of ground in a very short time, and when splitting the middle or ridges there is the same saving of time. He says that he knows absolutely that this Lister method is what brought western Kansas back and put it into flourishing condition and that it will work out even better here with us, as our soil is heavier, we have a cooler climate and less winds and hot winds and more moisture to conserve. Mr. Jenkins also refers us to the dry-land districts of the State of Washington, where this method is used with great success

Farmers Are Urged
to Try
"The Lister Method"
And Make Money
Instead of Losing It

What is the Lister?
Some Clear Explanation Of It
By An Old Friend.

To the Editor
Bow Island Review

Dear Sir,

Just a few lines in regard to the Lister Plow, there is a Corn Planter Attachment that goes with it that plants the corn about 2 inches deeper than the Lister Plow and if the Farmer would use the Lister he can raise Feed for his Hogs and Cattle and at the "same time" Summer-fallow his ground, and as you use the Cultivator through the Summer Cultivation, the farmer can keep the weeds down in the Spring the land is ready to seed in Wheat, and in that way you have "No Varnet Land Lying Idle."

The form is ready harvested, just about the time the Corn has grown out of the milk and before the Frost comes take your Binder and Cut it and Bind it and Stack it up the same way as you would Wheat and as soon as it gets dry in the stack take a Thrashing machine and just put in one set of coarse teeth and the rest is done.

Then haul your Corn in and thresh it, it shells your Corn off the cob and Cuts up the Fodder for your Cows, it is the Best Milk Producer that you will ever want and keeps your cattle fat.

If the farmers will start in with the Lister and raise Hogs and Cows and have some milk cows, in 10 years we will have the "Richest Farming District" in all Alberta, and "Now is the Time" to start.

I am writing this as I have had experience in Nebraska and Kansas and Colorado, myself and I know what can be done.

Yours for Better Times in the near future

Where Ulster Stands
Boundaries Now
Crucial Issue

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—A special cable to the Mail and Empire from Belfast, which the leading explains is a message to Canada from Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster, says:

"I will refuse to enter an all-Ireland parliament unless the south of Ireland demonstrates that it is capable of self-government."

"Ulster never wanted to govern herself. She wanted to continue as part of the great British Empire. The northern parliament was forced upon her and as she accepted in the interest of peace. Now that the south of Ireland has a government that is beginning to function, she intends to cling to it and pay the immense sum of eight million pounds exacted towards the upkeep of the British Empire. Five years from now, if the southern government proves loyal and capable, Ulster probably would consider a plan to go under the banner of the Irish Free State, but the consent of the new government would have to be wonderful indeed for Ulster to accept it."

In the meantime, we are going ahead with a task which we should never have been asked to undertake and now that we have started we intend to continue and make our government a model one."

After stating that the treaty between Britain and Southern Ireland provides for a commission with power to strip Ulster of her territory, the cable continues:

"The Boundary Question is our territory and it was ratified by the cabinet and the king. That territory will be governed from Belfast, until we know that the south is able to prove Ulster will not be corrected and her resources used to feed a government which does not desire to remain in the empire—a government composed of men who refuse to take an oath of allegiance to the British Empire."

"The boundary question is the all-important one with Ulster and it is a terrible penalty on our loyalty to the British Empire. Attempts have been made to make light of this but the prime ministers refused to give any assurance that the proposed commission would not take two whole counties away from us. So we shall have nothing to do with it. We were not consulted about it and it violated the pledges made us."

"Consequently we are going ahead with our government plan. My ministers will explain them to you so that the people of Canada may know what all of government we propose to give and to what extent we intend to protect the minority. The world may then judge us."

Model Village In Somaliland

Cousin of Italy's King Has Made Improvements For Natives
The Duke of the Abruzzi, cousin of the King of Italy, Polar explorer, mountain climber and distinguished naval officer, has actually founded a new direction. He has come to be regarded as a god and by the natives of Italian Somaliland, in which African colony he is taking a profound interest. He built a model village in the Benadir region, with everything for their comfort and improvement, including schools, a hospital and a library. The Somalis, who treat him with the greatest veneration and affection, have asked that the settlement be called the Duke of the Abruzzi Village.
After raising 24,000,000 lire a year ago for the development of Somaliland he went out there to disburse it and lately went home to Italy for more material and supplies for railway building and the promoting of agriculture.

Could Not Eat

Constipation is caused by a torpid condition of the liver. Douing with salts, castor oil, etc., to move the bowels, cannot afford more than temporary relief.
If you are to rid yourself of this ailment and the scores of annoying symptoms and diseases which come in its wake, it is necessary to get the liver right by such treatment as is suggested in this letter:

Mrs. Alvin Richards, R. R. No. 1, Seely's Bay, Ont., writes: "For two years I was afflicted with indigestion and the doctor said 'get up my breath was bad. I had a poor appetite and just felt like eating orange juice. I used many different medicines as a laxative without benefit, and the doctor's medicine did not help me at all. Finally I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them better than anything I had. They were highly recommended them to anyone troubled with constipation or kidney troubles."

The automobile owners of the province of Manitoba waited upon the Provincial Government requesting that the government appropriate a sum of five million dollars for the purpose of constructing main trunk highways throughout the province, to be extended over a period of five years in equal annual proportions of one million dollars. The government will take the request into consideration.

Insurance Policy For Snow Storm

First One Ever Written Was For Photography Producer
A $10,000 insurance policy for a snowstorm, was taken out by W. W. Griffith, the producer of "The Birth of a Nation," "Broken Blossoms" and "Way Down East." The snowstorm that did and did appear before November 26. The storm was essential to a new Griffith production and the contract of the picture had appeared in the snowstorm scene expired on the date mentioned. Insurance men say that this is the first time a policy was ever written for a storm, although many have been written against one.

An Old Agriculturalist

Englishman Worked in Fields Until After He Was 130
An Englishman, who is a victim of longevity, is that concerning an agriculturalist, named Thomas Parr, born in Shropshire, England, in 1453. He was engaged in agricultural pursuits and worked in the fields until after his one hundred and thirtieth birthday. At 130, according to outdoor records, he married a second time and became the father of a family. At 132 he was introduced to the court of Charles I. by the Earl of Arundel as a remarkable prodigy, but the change of air and mode of living caused his death. A post mortem examination of his body was made, but no internal symptoms of decay could be discovered. A grandson of Parr died in Shropshire at the age of 120.

Neatly Put

Chairman in Parliament Rebuked Irishman in Clever Way
When called to order by the speaker for uttering the expression "damned nonsense," Viscount Curzon did not defend himself so ingeniously as an Irish member described in Captain Harry Graham's "Mother of Parliaments." "During one of the interminable sittings of 1877," writes Captain Graham, "when obstruction was at its height, an Irishman, 'weary with watching and warding with whiskey,' said a fellow-member, a damned fool. On being ordered to withdraw the expression he explained that it was only a quotation.
"Whether the remark of the honorable gentleman can be explained by a quotation or a potation it is equally inadmissible," said the chairman. "I must ask him in future to mind his p's and q's."—London Express

To Toughest Glasses

When new glassware is bought, such as drinking glasses, lamp chimneys and so on it should be toughened before it is used. To do this place the articles in a large pan, pack them round with hay or newspaper to prevent breaking, and fill up with cold water, adding a handful of salt. Place pan on the stove and bring water slowly to boiling point. Remove from stove and set aside to cool.

Poison Gas Perfumes

Poison gas is once more in daily use, this time as a perfume in London drawing-rooms. Chemists have discovered that the gas used in the war will make most wonderful perfumes, and on turning out a large variety of scents. Thus another variant of the old saying concerning the healing of wounds into ploughshares, appears into pruning hooks.

Guns Hunt In a Drawing-Room

A remarkable incident occurred during a meet of hounds in the Shropshire Valley. A fox pursued by hounds ran into the house of a colliery manager on the mountain side, and sought refuge in the drawing-room. The hounds followed, and a fierce fight ensued, during which damage was done to the furniture before the fox was killed.

Thrilling accounts the latest attempt to scale Mount Everest were given by members of the expedition, appearing in Queen's Hall, London. They were dubious of the possibility of their reaching the summit, but believed constant attempts would eventually make way success.

New Jersey Bans Poppy A Nuisance

New Jersey's big-headed poppies will not see another spring. The horticultural board has ordered the blooms with their sentimental associations of the late war destroyed on the ground that they are a nuisance. So feeling is rampant.
The law was first brought over from France by troops returning from overseas in the early days of the war and was planted and tender recollections of the poppy-spread fields of France and Flanders. Horticulturists even and farms and doing incalculable harm to other flowers and vegetation.
The experts were right, it seems. The law that was thrown about the poppy after Colonel Melita's poem, "In Flanders Fields," began to ring about the world was purely a sentimental affair. Now it is only done the action taken in New Jersey has the practical common sense of a law that was never intended, is evidence once more that the is over.—Buffalo Commercial.

Clear Eyed Balfour

Sees No Peace Unless Britain and United States Stand Together
Mr. Balfour, with his ripe statesmanship, took to the big thing, and disregards details. He sees there can be no peace or order in this world if Great Britain and the United States are apart. Other nations can be helpful in settling the great issues, but the pathetic relations between the White House and Downing Street are essential. Why not settle the truth of this? And, who, admitting it, will be blind to its implications? Those who would separate those who speak the same tongue and who have been brought together by great events may justify, perhaps, by claim to wiser men, but they are not men that in any true sense they are friends of world peace.—New York Tribune.

A Brilliant Interpreter

Frenchman at Washington Conference Is Proficient in English
Camille Chautauque, French interpreter, utterly amazed visitors to the Arms Conference at Washington, and always the subject of the greatest admiration among those who have to depend upon him to follow the proceedings when English is not spoken. At the time the French Premier, M. Briand made his address before the conference, he was hardly taken his seat before M. Camerlynck was on his feet interpreting his address in English. He did not falter and was as clear as a bell for the word in English to convey the exact meaning which M. Briand desired. But he went even further. He put in the advantages of same tone and feeling and used virtually the same gestures as the Premier.

An Important Dish

Peacock Pie Served in Olden Times At Banquets
The peacock was important in great demand for state entertainments. Sometimes it was made into a pie, at one end of which the head appeared above the crust in all its plumage with the back richly gilt; at the other end the tail was displayed. Such pies were served up at the solemn banquets of chivalry, when knights errant pledged themselves to undertake any perilous enterprise; whence came the ancient oath, used by Justice Shallow, "By cock and pie."
The peacock was also an important dish for the Christmas feast; and Maugham, in his "City Makers," gives some idea of the extravagance with which this, as well as other dishes, was prepared for the gorgeous revel of the olden times.

Curtis Awarded Invention Honor

In a decision, epoch making in the history of aeronautics, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals holds that Glen H. Curtis was the first person to invent and operate a flying boat, and issued an order awarding him the broad patent for hydro-aeroplane.
The decision reversed the lower court's ruling, which awarded the patent rights to Albert S. Janin, an inventor of St. Louis.

In order to shut out the din of the city, Herbert Spencer used to wear spiral springs fitted with pads which effectively closed each ear.

Angus Men In Parliament

Expected That Elected Representatives Will Help Livestock Industry

Mr. Harry Leader, of Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, who defeated Premier Melchior on the Progressive ticket, has been a prominent member of the Canadian Aberdeen Angus Association and a leading breeder of Aberdeen Angus cattle. In the Dauphin constituency Mr. J. W. Ward, the successful Progressive candidate, is also a leading Aberdeen Angus breeder in his own territory. Both men will go to the Federal House of Parliament with a full understanding of the needs of agriculture and animal husbandry in the west. While it is not expected that they should in any sense be the special representatives of the Angus breed in parliament, they can with the help and assistance of other prominent breeders of the different breeds of livestock, who have been elected as Progressives, Liberals and Conservatives, do a great deal for the livestock industry in general when questions of fiscal policy or foreign markets are being discussed.
